

FEARN · FARM

Stockperson Vacancy

An exciting opportunity has arisen for a Stockperson to join the team at Fearn Farm. Fearn Farm is in the Scottish Highlands and is owned and run by the Scott Family who have, over various generations, developed the farming business which now extends to 1100ha.

This well-developed breeding and finishing farm business specialises in high quality beef and sheep genetics which are sold to customers all over the UK. We also run a successful agritourism business and contract-farm a local upland grass farm with 50 Luining cows and 400 ewes.

For almost thirty years we have bred Beef Shorthorns and now have one of the best herds in the country. We also breed Luining's under our own Sutherland banner and with the Durham family at Scotsburn.

All of our cattle are High Health and performance recorded and we sell to discerning customers all over the UK.

We work with some of the best advisors in the world and every opportunity is given to allow staff to continue on their learning journey through off farm CPD.

This role will give you the opportunity to be supported in a team environment and also work autonomously.

We're looking for someone dynamic and pro-active - who'll bring fresh ideas and enthusiasm to complement our young team.

Additionally, the following personal attributes would be highly beneficial for candidates:

- A great work ethic and desire to learn
- Willingness to work with Cattle and Sheep
- A first-class attitude to health and safety and animal welfare
- Open to opportunities to progress within the team
- An awareness of the environment we live in and how we enhance it together

Duties will include, but are not limited to

- General day-to-day cattle management
- Grassland management - currently introducing rotational grazing infrastructure on farm
- Implementation of our health plan and associated treatments
- Winter feeding
- Working closely with the managers to identify and achieve objectives
